COUNCIL AIMS TO FOCUS ON PARK

Under surveillance: Ducketts Common near Turnpike Lane

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

SURVEILLANCE cameras are to be installed at a park which has been plagued with long-running problems of drug dealers, street drinkers and anti-social behaviour.

CCTV is one of the measures Haringey Council is planning for Ducketts Common, near Turnpike Lane, as it and the police take action to rid the area of illegal activity and nuisance behaviour.

It comes after the council's enforcement and anti-social behaviour teams visited the area following concerns raised by park users and residents.

They dispersed 10 men who were drunk or drinking in the park, issued two fixed penalty notices for littering, visited eight shops and removed two electricity metres which had been illegally and dangerously tampered with, as well as encouraging residents to report anti-social behaviour.

Bernice Vanier, Haringey Council's cabinet member for communities, said: "Ducketts Common is a vibrant and popular open space that is much-loved by the local community, but we know there are some problems and it is important that both we and the police continue to have a high presence there, while we work towards making it an even safer, cleaner and more welcoming place to visit.

"We will continue working closely with residents, businesses and groups such as the Friends of Ducketts Common to improve this open space and the surrounding area."

Happy daze: These identical twins are delighted with their results

Celebration for pass masters

THERE were two helpings of joy for a pair of identical twins as students across Haringey collected their GCSE results last week.

The sisters – pupils at Woodside School, in White Hart Lane, Wood Green – celebrated their exam success along with hundreds of others at schools across the borough.

Provisional results show that 56.7 per cent of students achieved 5 A*-C grades in subjects including English and maths.

Laura Visockyte, also a pupil at Woodside, gained five A grades and intends to study for a career in forensic science, while Andri Boda, a student at Park View School, in West Green Road, Tottenham, gained an impressive eight A grades and two A*s.

Mayowa Akinyemis, one of the students who sat the first ever GCSEs taken at Heartlands High School, in Station Road, Wood Green, gained three A*s and six As.

Ann Waters, Haringey Council's cabinet member for children and families, said: "GCSE results day is always emotional and it has been fantastic to meet so many young people who've worked hard and received the grades they wanted to move on to further education, employment or training."

Conjuring up the spirit of jazz

SOME of the capital's leading musicians will be performing at the fifth annual Highgate Jazz with Soul festival.

The three-day event is being held over the Saturday, Sunday and Monday of the August bank holiday weekend.

Whereas in previous years events have been scattered at locations across Highgate, requiring plenty of walking, this year all the venues are centred around Highgate Village.

Festival organiser and top saxophonist Brandon Allen will be kicking off the festival with a masterclass for advanced musicians and beginners at Highgate United Reformed Church, in South Grove, from noon to 1.30pm, followed by another masterclass by classically-trained modern jazz pianist Jason Rebello, who has played with Sting.

Brandon and Jason will later play live with guest vocalist Abigail Boyd at the church from 8pm to 10pm.

On Sunday, the music switches to Lauderdale House, in Highgate Hill with the Sara Mitra Band getting proceedings under way at 6.30pm followed by Gilad Atzmon's Orient House Ensemble at 9pm.

He has played with Pink Floyd, Paul McCartney and Ian Dury and demonstrates his virtuosity by playing sax, clarinet and ethnic woodwind instruments.

The festival moves to Upstairs at the Gatehouse, in Highgate Village, on Monday, when the line-up from 2pm onwards includes the Charlie Wood Band, followed by the Partisans at 5pm and the Brandon Allen Sextet at 8pm.

For more information and advance tickets, call 07976 379891.

'I have never seen anything like this'

Labour's Edmonton MP backs Jeremy Corbyn

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

AN MP who swept to victory in May's general election is heralding Corbynmania as the antidote to political apathy among disillusioned and disenfranchised voters across the country.

Kate Osamor was one of the first MPs to show her support for Jeremy Corbyn when he was struggling to get the 35 pledges needed to get his name on the Labour leadership ballot.

As an ally of the front-runner in the race to be crowned the next leader of the Labour Party, the MP for Edmonton has seen at first hand how the momentum around his campaign has built to fever pitch in recent weeks.

"An example of how energised his campaign is, I went along to a phone bank – where volunteers call voters to gather support – and there were five rooms of volunteers, many of them using their own phones," she told the Advertiser.

"In my years of campaigning and being involved in politics I have never seen anything like this. This level of energy and passion – it doesn't happen. No matter what you think of him, people are responding to him – they are responding to what he stands for."

Despite the seemingly unstoppable groundswell of support for the only anti-austerity candidate in the running to lead the party, senior Labour figures have been lining up in recent weeks to warn of the dangers of electing Mr Corbyn.

"Those attacking his supporters need to get the message that the politics of the 1990s and the 2000s are not what people want anymore," added Ms Osamor.

"People don't trust politicians any more – they want people who look and sound like them to represent them. I found that out first hand when I campaigned in Edmonton."

With Mr Corbyn under attack from inside the party, some have suggested that Labour will split, no matter what the outcome of the ballot is.

Energy: Kate Osamor, the Labour MP for Edmonton

"I was listening to John Prescott and I agree with him," said Ms Osamor. "We must not be talking about setting up other parties."

Mr Prescott's warning at a rally for Andy Burnham came after speculation that two prominent members of the shadow cabinet – Chuka Umunna and Tristram Hunt – are setting up a subset of the party called the Labour Group for the Common Good in opposition to those who back Mr Corbyn.

"I don't know exactly what the party will look like at the end of September," Ms Osamor said. "There will be anger and there are always groups that disagree within any party, but we have to try and work harmoniously."

The winner of the leadership contest will be announced on September 12.

Furniture firm fined over fire danger

A COMPANY has been fined £6,000 after selling furniture that failed to comply with fire safety regulations.

Enfield Council trading standards inspectors bought a sofa from Oda Mobilya, based in Hertford Road, Edmonton, in December 2014 – and following tests it failed to meet strict fire resistant requirements.

Officials from Lewisham Council in south London also carried out tests on a sofa bought from another branch of the same company.

Trading standards officers issued a suspension notice and gathered evidence for a prosecution, which was heard at Tottenham Magistrates' Court last Thursday.

In addition to the fine, Enfield Council is to receive £1,547 towards costs, plus an additional payment of a £120 victim surcharge.

Daniel Anderson, cabinet member for environment, said: "Enfield Council will always prosecute companies that sell shoddy or dangerous items in our borough. I am delighted to hear that this company has been brought to book and urge anyone buying a sofa or bed to ensure they carry the fire safety mark."

High summer: Scenes from last year's event Let's get physical!

THE festival season continues to gather pace.

The annual Palmers Green Festival returns to Broomfield Park on Sunday September 6 from noon, bringing together popular activities for both young and old.

The free community event will feature more than 100 stalls, with many offering a flavour of the world with cuisines from Poland, Mexico and South Asia.

Physical activity and the benefits of exercise will be at the heart of the festival.

Tai chi, yoga, zumba dance, armchair exercises and Nordic walking are all part of the range of activities which will be available to everyone.

A funfair and climbing wall are also among the attractions and festival-goers can take part in seven hours of free dance lessons.

Festival founder Phillip Card said: "Everybody loves a party. The festival is our once-a-year party to have fun and celebrate our community in the park."

People are also encouraged to volunteer their spare time to ensure the things run smoothly.

Coordinator Veronica Trew said: "There are so many ways people can help, even if it is just for a few hours."

"We need lots of people from early in the morning to clearing up late on in the evening."

Full details on the festival's schedule of and how to volunteer are available at www.palmersgreenfestival.org.uk

Brave Jiangbei's all set for a stint on the ocean waves

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

JIANGBEI Zhu is about to experience heaven and hell on the high seas as she sets sail on Sunday on the adventure of a lifetime.

Enormous swells and dangerous 70-foot waves whipped up by hurricane force winds await the 22-year-old from Southgate – together thankfully with more tranquil seas – as she and 700 other novice sailors take part in the 11-month-long Clipper Round the World Yacht Race.

Jiangbei, who lives in Oxford Avenue, moved to the UK from China when she was 15 to go to boarding school and applied for what's been dubbed one of the toughest endurance challenges on the planet after her relationship with her boyfriend of two years broke up because he wanted to get married and she didn't.

The former architecture student at Central Saint Martin's College of Art, in Bloomsbury, in central London, also possesses a degree in psychology, which she gained in China, and said: "I suddenly realised I had too much I hadn't done in my life to be tied down so young."

"I'd seen the poster for the race on the Underground and it was something which appealed to me."

Originally from Shanghai, Jiangbei will set off in one of the dozen 70ft ocean racing yachts manned by a professional skipper and crew of 23 from St Katharine Docks, in London's Docklands, travelling 40,000 nautical miles.

The biennial race is split into eight legs with 16 individual races and is not for the faint-hearted, crossing the world's most challenging oceans and faced by some of the harshest weather conditions.

Most participants usually do one or two legs as it costs them about £3,000 a leg and some save for years to take part.

Jiangbei is undertaking the full circumnavigation at a cost of £45,000, which she has borrowed from her wealthy father – the owner of one of China's largest sewing machine manufacturers.

She has no previous sailing experience and for the past month she has been undergoing intensive training aboard a clipper at Gosport on the south coast, in Hampshire, being taught how to sail and learning about survival skills.

However, deep water holds no fear for her for as she is a top free diver – plunging to lung-busting depths without an oxygen tank before resurfacing. She is ranked fourth best in China and can hold her breath under water for four-and-a-half minutes.

Her mother will wave her off, having travelled to England from China, and Jiangbei will be reunited with her family when the race's Asia-Pacific leg is completed at the port of Qingdao, in Shandong province.

"It will be a test of physical and emotional endurance," said Jiangbei.

"The living conditions are cramped and the crews have to do four-hour and six-hour watches, which can be exhausting, but they'll be dead calms, beautiful sunsets, literally a whole blanket of stars and it really will be a life-changing experience," she added.

Ahoy there: Jiangbei Zhu, from Southgate, is ready to face the challenge of the high seas, inset

White-knuckle ride provides plenty of drama for Chickenshed trio

A TRIO from Chickenshed Theatre Company weren't play-acting at being terrified after a white-knuckle thrill ride.

Three members of the inclusive theatre, based in Chase Side, Southgate, had an exhilarating experience riding the rapids at the Lee Valley White Water Centre, in Waltham Cross, last week.

It was one of the corporate fundraising events organised by Chickenshed for businesses and companies which support the theatre financially.

Head of funding Adam Gallacher, events manager Ruth O'Malley and supporter Keith Samson joined employees from a construction company based in the City as seven rafts crewed by nine people raced to see who could complete the course in the fastest time. That was followed by a barbecue.

"It was terrifying, but exhilarating," said Ruth O'Malley.

"It was one of the corporate events we organise for businesses which support us and it raised a total of £20,000 which will help us deliver our aims in working with young people.

"We are looking to grow and develop partnerships with major corporations and as well as business locally providing fun corporate activities we are holding a clay pigeon shoot in the near future at the Royal Berkshire Shooting School."

BENEATH the trees, where nobody sees, Disney princesses and teddy bears come out to play for a picnic.

Fairytale royalty Cinderella and Snow White, on a day off from the dwarves no doubt, joined nearly 1,000 excited children and parents at Saturday's Teddy Bears Picnic held at Capel Manor Gardens, in Bullsmoor Lane, Enfield, and organised by the Nightingale Cancer Support Centre, based in Lancaster Road, Enfield.

Picnic-goers took to bouncy castles as they enjoyed soaring temperatures.

The event also featured go-karting, face painting, cupcake decorating and craft stalls.

More than £6,000 raised from ticket sales will go towards funding the Nightingale centre.

Fundraising officer Lesa Barker said: "It was amazing seeing families spend time together, sitting down and actively making use of local spaces."

"The pass-the-parcel was a particular favourite. Seeing children sat in a circle, of different ages, genders and race all playing together was incredible."

YEARS of CARE
ESTABLISHED 1970

Simply oar-some!

THE ICF Canoe World Slalom Championships 2015 are coming to Lee Valley White Water Centre – and we have two pairs of weekend passes up for grabs.

With new figures from British Canoeing revealing that 1.5 million people went canoeing last year, the organisation is now trying to encourage more families to sample the sport ahead of the championships, which run from September 16 to 20 – and you can be there on the weekend of September 19 and 20.

With statistics showing that female participation rates are now at the highest they have been since 2002 – a 56 per cent increase – the next step for the sport is to encourage more families on to the water, especially since participation in canoeing is currently highest among students, workers and parents.

The championships, which are taking place on the Olympic course at the centre, in Waltham Cross, will have a family feel this year – with a dedicated expo area featuring the best of the great British summer-time – including food and drinks stands, a bouncy castle, a climbing wall and even a Pimms tent for thirsty parents.

Sports fans will also be treated to displays from a host of British talent, including 2012 Olympic champion Etienne Stott with new partner Mark Proctor and Olympic silver medallists David Florence and Richard Hounslow. There will also be a number of future stars taking to the water, including under-23 world champion Adam Burgess and two-time world silver medalist Mallory Franklin.

Canoe slalom is often described as canoeing's most challenging discipline as competitors tackle white water rapids which test their speed, agility and precision. Paddlers must navigate a sequence of gates in number order, set up over rapids, waves, eddies and currents, along a 300-metre stretch of water.

For your chance to win, simply answer this question: Where are the ICF Canoe World Slalom Championships being held – a) Lee Valley b) Wembley Stadium c) Twickenham?

Send your answer, with your name, address and a daytime telephone number, to: British Canoeing Competition, North London & Herts Newspapers, 187 Baker Street, Enfield, EN1 3JT, or send your answer, with your contact details, to competitions@nlhnews.co.uk, with "Canoeing" in the subject line, by noon on Thursday September 3.

Games centre fined for kitchen dirt

By Shafi Musaddique

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

THE game was up for the former bosses of a laser combat centre who have been fined for running unhygienic premises.

Tottenham Magistrates' Court handed out a £4,000 fine last Thursday after a public inspection in June 2014 deemed the kitchen at Enfield Quasar, in Queensway, Ponders End, was a public health hazard.

Equipment was reported to be extremely dirty with poor storage facilities and uncooked food delivered to children and families at the games complex.

The fine will contribute towards council costs of £2,025, as well as a victim surcharge of £120.

A return visit by council inspectors in September 2014 saw an improvement in hygiene levels at the kitchen, with three members of staff booked on a food and safety hygiene for catering course.

The venue is now under new management and the premises now fully comply with health and safety regulations.

Enfield Council's cabinet member for environment Daniel Anderson said: "It is completely unacceptable for places which sell food to endanger the health of customers by failing to take proper precautions and operating filthy and unhygienic premises.

"The council does not tolerate businesses who cannot or will not comply with the law and we will continue to close down dirty or unhygienic food premises that endanger the health of our residents.

"I am delighted to hear that, under new management, Enfield Quasar has now passed all its health inspections," added Mr Anderson.

Runners urged to limber up for mayor's annual fun run

RESIDENTS are being urged to swap their summer sandals for trainers in order to raise cash for a good cause.

The Mayor of Enfield's Charity Fun Run will bring hundreds of runners, volunteers and spectators together in a fundraiser for dementia sufferers.

About 850,000 people suffer in the UK from dementia, with the chances of developing the condition increasing as the population ages.

Symptoms include memory loss, difficulties with speaking and changes in mood.

The run will start at the Forty Hall estate, in Forty Hill, Enfield, on Sunday September 20 at 10.15am. Registration is open for a 10km run and a slightly less challenging 3km course.

Nneka Keazor, Enfield Council's cabinet member for public health and sport, said: "The fun runs in Enfield are thoroughly enjoyable and have been successful every year.

"I'm urging everyone who is free on Sunday September 20 to sign up.

It's a fantastic way to spend time with friends and family while keeping fit and raising money for a good cause."

The Mayor of Enfield Patricia Ekechi says the run is a great way of supporting her charity appeal fund, which is backing dementia charities in the borough.

She said: "Dementia is a terrible disease that robs the person of their sense of awareness and impacts on the entire family.

"I am delighted that this year all money raised from the charity fun run will be going to help these people in our community".

Registration for the race can be completed by visiting www.enfield.gov.uk/funrun

Making the grade:

Star-studded results for GCSE students

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

TEENAGERS celebrated last Thursday after notching up a slew of top marks in their GCSEs.

Southgate School, in Sussex Way, Cockfosters, saw star student Kristopher Miltiadou swoop to glory with seven A*s, three As and a B.

A glutton for punishment, Kristopher now has his sights set on studying A-levels in maths, further maths, physics and economics – but his success was not a walk in the park for the 16-year-old, who admitted to “working hard” for the results, “especially in the three sciences”.

Fellow Southgate student Nicole Kyriacou was equally thrilled after picking up her results – six A*s and five As – and bringing an end to her anxious wait and sleepless nights.

“For me, this is the end result of working really really hard for three years – since year nine really,” Nicole told the Advertiser – and with her sights set on working in the field of science, she is gearing up to knuckle down for another two years of study with A-levels in maths mechanics, product design, biology and chemistry stretching ahead of her.

Another happy soul was Sam Casserly, who said that his three Bs and four Cs, if not the best, were better than he would have expected of himself even a year ago.

“I am thrilled – seven passes,” he said. “Now I can do my BTEC in media as that is really the career path I want to pursue.”

Meanwhile, squeals of delight and anguish could be heard emanating from Oasis Academy Hadley, in South Street, Ponders End.

Although the Oasis Community Learning Trust, which runs the 44 Oasis-branded academies across the country, was said by Ofsted inspector Catherine Anwar to “have a variable record of improvement”, the pupils who spoke to the Advertiser were delighted with their results.

Anisha Akther is off to Woodhouse College, in North Finchley, to study for A-levels in accountancy, economics, maths and biology after gaining an A*, five As, a B and two Cs.

“I worked really hard for these results,” said the 16-year-old. “I was revising every single day.”

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Richard Power feels that it's all about service. ‘Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.’

Cloudy2Clear service the Enfield, Edmonton, Palmers Green, Winchmore Hill & Southgate areas and Richard is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. ‘The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.’

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Richard a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

AS the nights get shorter I'm determined to make the most of the last of the summer festivals in Enfield.

I am particularly excited about Livestock at Forty Hall Farm, which is Enfield's only home-grown 100 per cent music festival and which looks terrific again this year.

It's the brainchild of local artist Leon Wilkin and is packed full of great musicians, many of them local.

The Enfield Town and Country Show is the final festival of the summer and is going to be a very rural affair this year featuring dog shows, food demonstrations and the return of the Big Arena, in Enfield Town Park.

The first big festival for autumn in Enfield is Black History Month, which takes place across October and this year features a tribute to the late great Bob Marley at Millfield Theatre.

Marley played Edmonton back in 1971 when he appeared at the Sundown Festival at The Regal. You can still see that great performance on YouTube.

Judith Jacob, of EastEnders, fame brings her chat show Yabba Yabba to The Dugdale Centre with a host of surprise guests and local writer Sharron Spice is bringing her show Femmetamorphosis home to Enfield direct from the Edinburgh Festival.

As The X Factor returns to our screens this autumn, Millfield presents past winner Joe McElderry and Enfield's own Andy Abraham, who was the runner-up 10 years ago.

Everyone can play a part in helping the community

IN these difficult times when organisations and community groups are facing severe financial belt tightening I would like to encourage people to think about volunteering.

Volunteering in your community can be rewarding and a good way to gain experience for a future career. Many volunteering roles come with excellent training and development programmes that you would find invaluable in today's employment market.

There are many groups that need volunteers in order to operate and these groups cover a wide range of activities, from helping others, to clearing up community areas etc.

If you have ever attended the Enfield Council's 100 hour awards, you would be amazed at just how many people in our community volunteer – hundreds of groups and charities, all managing to continue their work in the community in these challenging times.

So many people, young and old, working and retired, all play their part in making our community a better place whether that's caring for others or caring for our community.

I have been volunteering with the youth offending unit for 14 years and I am amazed at how many people want to give their time freely.

It's vitally important that we keep the interest in volunteering going and growing. It's an opportunity to play an active role and see those changes we can all make slowly happen.

You can contact Volunteer Centre Enfield on 020 8373 6348, or by email via volunteering@enfieldva.org.uk, for more details.

Heartfelt thanks to all at the North Middlesex

MY wife had a fall on October 17 which resulted in her fracturing a vertebrae in the middle section of her spine. and attended North Middlesex University Hospital.

Since it was a fracture and there was no displacement or pressure on the nerves, she was advised to go home, rest and take painkillers.

An appointment was arranged and a week later she saw the consultant at the fracture clinic, who explained what could be done. Two weeks later, she was measured and fitted with a special support belt.

Before the accident, our GP had written for an appointment with the haematology department with regard to a blood deficiency. My wife is diabetic, has a hiatus hernia and eye problems.

Since November 2014, she has gone from one clinic to another for diagnosis and suggested treatment for her problems. Over the past nine months she has visited the hospital twice or three times a week on some occasions. Finally, she has been returned to our GP with the findings.

We would like to express our thanks to the numerous members of staff for dealing with her with patience, respect and kindness, from reception staff, to porters, technicians, assistant nurses, staff nurses, doctors and consultants.

We must be doing right thing

I'M grateful for your article last week ("Jobless fall bucks the national trend", Advertiser, August 19) picking up on the fact that at a time when UK joblessness is spiking again (unsurprisingly, given George Osborne's boom and bust management of the electoral cycle), Enfield has been outperforming the rest of London.

Of course, we had a lot of ground to make up, given how bad job figures got. Since Labour took over, Enfield's employment rate has risen by nearly 10 per cent, more than twice as fast as other outer London boroughs, our JSA claims and number of unemployed youth are the lowest on record since January 2006, last month our long-term unemployment dropped by five per cent and is now at the lowest since November 2009 and joblessness for the over-50s has decreased as well.

Jobs are probably the leading measure of a successful economic regeneration effort. We'll never be complacent, but based on these figures we must be doing the right thing. Officers met the London and Partners inwards investment body recently and the complimented Enfield for the profile we've built in growth sectors such as green technology and IT.

Despite shrinking resources, council officers are highly motivated and doing a fantastic job. It's all systems go here.

Councillor Alan Sitkin
Cabinet Member for Economic Regeneration
and Business Development

We shall never forget 'The Few'

I HAD the honour of flying Hurricanes for the RAF as one of "The Few" during the Battle of Britain.

Last week, I marked the anniversary of what is known as "the Hardest Day" in that battle against German invasion – Tuesday August 18 1940 – the day on which the Luftwaffe made an all-out assault on RAF Fighter Command, resulting in both sides losing more aircraft than on any other day during the campaign.

As we recall those fateful days and celebrate the bravery of all those involved – many of them my friends and colleagues – we must also remember our enduring debt of gratitude to all who have served, and who serve now.

The RAF Benevolent Fund believes it is important for the country to share in the memory of the Battle of Britain and the sacrifices that were made, but it needn't all be a solemn affair.

That's why I'm supporting the inaugural Great British Sunday Lunch – a chance for families, friends, and communities to gather together on Sunday September 13 to host their own meal at home, in the local community centre, at the pub or in the park, to raise vital funds to support RAF veterans and their families.

Why must we pay for this?

NOT so long ago we were able to phone up the various departments of our local police whose phone numbers were advertised.

Now we are given the 101 number to call police for non-emergency enquiries.

To dial 101 costs a fixed rate of 15p, yet with almost all telephone service providers (landline or mobile) calls are free (up to 59 minutes), so why "charge" us for phoning our police?

Have we not paid enough in council tax?

Fifty up for the mighty Quinns

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A COUPLE on the cusp of celebrating half-a-century of marriage credit their years together to "being best friends before anything else".

Bart, 75, and Hazel Quinn, 69, of Woodstock Crescent, in Edmonton, met at a family party 53 years ago and Bart proposed after a courtship of three whole weeks.

And, according to Hazel, it really was love at first sight.

"We had a long engagement after the whirlwind courtship and so three years later, on September 4 1965, we were married in St Edmund's Church, Hertford Road."

When she met her future husband at the age of 16, Hazel had lived in Edmonton since birth – while Bart had arrived in London from Tipperary in the south of Ireland.

"Where I lived, it was very rural, a lot of farming, and there was not much happening," he told the Advertiser.

He got work in a textile factory in Edmonton and the couple have lived in the area ever since their wedding.

And in that half-century have there been rows and arguments?

ANNE MARIE SANDERSON

Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary: Hazel and Bart Quinn

"We don't row," said Hazel. "We have discussions. But at the end of the day we are best friends before anything else."

The couple are planning to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with a special mass said in their home and then will go to Tipperary, where they will have a big party with their extended family.

Do you think your business has got what it takes to impress customers with floors so clean you could eat your dinner off them instead of the plates?
Are your kitchen surfaces so clean you could see your face in them, and do your customers rave about your spotless servers?
Any premises can meet the holy grail of five star rating and yours could be the next to be featured on these pages.
Council food inspectors will be looking for the highest standards of food handling - they will want to see how your meals are prepped, cooked, cooled, reheated and stored. But their investigations won't stop there.
They will be peering into every nook and cranny of your eatery to make sure no nasty surprises are lurking in the smallest of crevices waiting to unleash all manner of microbes on unsuspecting diners.
Is your layout a dream to clean? Is your ventilation system working properly?
Investigators will also be making sure that all records are up to date and that everything possible is done to make sure the food up is safe and up to scratch.
If you think you've got what it takes to be a five star fave get in touch with Enfield Council on: 0800 40 80 160

Hertford Regional College

It's not too late to enrol on a course starting this year.

We still have limited availability for courses starting in September 2015. HRC offers a wide range of full and part-time courses, taught by specialist tutors in professional standard facilities. Along with our extensive range of courses we have various apprenticeships available, giving you the chance to earn a wage while gaining work experience and a nationally accredited qualification.

New building opening in a week!

We're nearing completion of a £10.5 million investment to redevelop our Ware campus to provide a brand new Creative Arts Centre, which will be opening this September. Students will benefit from a dedicated building that will include purpose built studios, laser cutters, Apple Mac and PC suites, a 3D printer, gallery, model-making workshop, business enterprise suite and much more.

Having second thoughts?

If you start a course somewhere in September, but have second thoughts, come along to our open day on:

Saturday 12th September

Going into battle against plans for cycling

Leading the fight: Costas Georgiou, right, Helen Osman, centre, and fellow protesters

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

BUSINESS owners are making a concerted bid to halt plans to make swathes of the borough cycle-friendly.

The newly-created Save Our Green Lanes campaign group has launched a scathing attack on the consultation to make the stretch of Green Lanes between Enfield Town, including London Road, Park Avenue, Village Road and Ridge Avenue, and the North Circular Road in Palmers Green a safe place to cycle.

The leaders of the campaign, N21 Online founder Helen Osman and businessman Costas Georgiou, are accusing the cycling gurus at Enfield Council of hiding the detail of the proposals deep in the consultation paperwork.

The campaign group says: "There would be significant loss of on-street parking for the businesses in Palmers Green and Winchmore Hill Broadway and in Green Lanes between Hazelwood Lane and Lodge Drive. However, the council documents do not mention this."

In the consultation documents available on the Cycle Enfield website, council officers detail the changes to The Broadway in Winchmore Hill by referring to the stretch of road between Station Road and Fernleigh Road, which encompasses

The Broadway, by stating that the current 59 pay-and-display parking spaces will be reduced to 42 with 35 bays in Green Lanes and seven bays in sideroads.

The area between Hazelwood Lane and Lodge Drive is covered by the council when it is mentioned that from Fox Lane to Broomfield Lane the existing 47 spaces will go up to 60 by increasing capacity at the Lodge Drive car park.

The campaigners also take issue with the fact that the proposed bus stop boarders – where buses stop in the bus lane and passengers alight not on to the pavement but on to a raised cycle lane – depositing them in the midst of flowing cycle traffic.

However, cabinet member for the environment Daniel Anderson, told the Advertiser that he imagined the cycle lanes would not be "full of Chris Froomes, but rather cyclists going at a gentle pace".

However, the boarded bus stops will still mean that cyclists will more than likely have to overtake buses by weaving into oncoming traffic, something Mr Anderson insists will not be dangerous for cyclists or drivers.

"It is important to remember that the plans are not finalised," added Mr Anderson, "and I am glad that Osman and Costas are having their say and getting involved in the consultation process."

Easier to use ticket machines (Piece of cake)

Due for redevelopment:
Chase Farm Hospital

Hospital meeting

By Shafi Musaddique
newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

PROPOSALS for the redevelopment of Chase Farm Hospital are set to be discussed in a public meeting next month.

The Royal Free London NHS Foundation Trust, which runs the hospital, in The Ridgeway Enfield, will discuss the plans with residents at the meeting at the Dugdale Centre, in Cecil Road, Enfield Town, on Thursday September 10.

The plans include construction of new buildings with facilities for urgent care, an older persons' assessment unit and non-emergency care.

Other proposals include up to 500 homes, many of which will accommodate staff from the hospital, and a new primary school.

Chase Farm Hospital director Fiona Jackson said: "On September 10 we expect to be in a position to share the finalised plans and update the community on the next steps regarding planning matters. I hope to see a repeat of the great turnout for our last event."

Anyone interested in attending the meeting, which starts at 6.30pm, should email rf.cfhstakeholders@nhs.net and more information about the redevelopment can be found at www.royalfree.nhs.uk/chasefarm

Ways to plan for future care

Given the average cost of care in a residential home is around £700 a week and more than £1000 in a nursing home, it is easy to see how people's assets are quickly exhausted if they spend their twilight years in a care home. For someone who needs care now or is likely to need it in the near future there are steps that they can take to pay for care and protect their assets.

1. See if you are entitled to free NHS funded care. To be entitled the person must show they have a 'primary' health need. Eligibility for a primary health care need is based on whether the person has an intense, complex, unpredictable and continuous health care needs, which will be shown by the quantity and/or quality of care given. The NHS must carry out an assessment free of charge when it is requested.
2. Look at ways to lawfully deprive yourself of assets that would otherwise be used to pay for care. Deliberate deprivation is unlawful. A large gift which reduces your estate significantly can be challenged by the local authority. However, the council must determine the significant reason for the gift. For example, a gift to relatives who are in financial difficulty or as a way to avoid inheritance tax can be viewed as lawful.
3. Entitlement to assistance from Adult Social Services is means tested. Very often the main asset belonging to the person needing care is their home. There are circumstances when the property must be disregarded by the local authority when carrying out a means test. For example, a home you no longer live in but remains occupied by a spouse or partner must be ignored. So too if it is occupied by a relative aged 60 or over, or who is incapacitated.
4. If the house must be taken to pay for care, find out if the local authority will agree to a deferred payment scheme. This is where the council agrees to a charge placed on the property to cover the cost of care to avoid it having to be sold. This will allow the family to benefit from the growth in the value of the home and it can be let to tenants to generate an income.

Stennett & Stennett Solicitors & Estate Agents have for many years advised the elderly and their family about asset protection and paying for care. Call the Private Client Team on 020 8920 3190 or attend the free advice clinic at 4 Winchmore Hill Road, Southgate, London N14 6PT on the first Wednesday in every month.

Festival addresses the broader issues

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A TEENAGE activist who was instrumental in the successful campaign to get rid of topless models from The Sun newspaper has organised London's first Woman Up festival.

Yas Necati, 18, who lives in Palmers Green, has drawn together a band of activists, advocates, campaigners, performers, writers and poets for a weekend of debate and discussion geared towards exploring what it means to be a woman in society today.

After her work in the No More Page Three campaign was lauded by a BBC3 documentary which featured her standing in front of Rupert Murdoch's moving Range Rover in protest at his paper's depiction of women, Yas wanted to address broader issues around women's equality and has organised the Woman Up festival at Conway Hall, in Red Lion Square, in central London, for the bank holiday weekend.

"Unlike other events of its kind we have decided that you can just pay what you can afford, with the minimum set at £3," the campaigner told the Advertiser.

"I have deliberately tried to bring in a broad range of speakers, not just academics, and I'm hoping that by extending the breadth of the discussion to consider different cultures, different economic and social backgrounds, and by advertising it on a different range of platforms, we can include women who may have been excluded by some other feminist events which have been seen in the past as almost speaking just to white, middle-class women."

The festival takes place on Saturday and

Activist: Teenager Yas Necati

Sunday and the agenda includes a panel discussion on The Politics of Women's Bodies, featuring contributions from Chella Quint, from the Period Positive campaign and film producer Pandora Blake.

"Battling for women's equality nowadays can be difficult because sexism is everywhere, but it is not as obvious as it once was," added Yas.

"For example, with rape culture, there is not one specific tangible thing that we can point to to say – that is it, that is exactly what it looks like and to fight it we just have to stop doing that one thing. And I think that has to do with the fact that there is an illusion that we are in a post-feminist era."

"So that is why we need to hear from a range of experiences and discuss it as much as we can to raise awareness among all women."

Anyone wishing to attend the event can book tickets via www.eventbrite.co.uk

Not just a PC repair centre.....

OVER the years “cowboys” have given the PC industry a bad name by using non-genuine software, shoddy parts and carry out poor repairs.

Computer Krayzee have been successfully servicing and repairing PC & Laptops for Enfield's residents since 2004 and have now extended their range of services for their valued customers.

Located inside one the BIG 4 supermarkets, Computer Krayzee have been working with Morrisons over the years to make sure that customers have a great shopping experience.

Repairs don't have to be awkward or expensive, and it is important that all our customers understand what their PC or Laptop requires. With qualified technicians, experienced staff, secure premises and simplified pricing structure we take the stress out of repairing & servicing.

Over the years the “shop while we fix” idea has become very popular as customers have been able to get minor repairs* done whilst they were able to do their weekly shop or maybe even pop into the Morrisons Café for a bite to eat.

Computer Krayzee has added to their services by introducing; Express Key Cutting Service, MoneyGram (International Money Transfer) and a wide range of Vape/E-Liquid products.

Boxing club is proving big hit

By Shafi Musaddique

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

BOYS from Edmonton Eagles Amateur Boxing Club rise up to the challenge of their rivals, building up strength during regular Saturday afternoon session for 13 and 14-year-olds.

The club, based in Montagu Road, Edmonton, provides classes five days a week and prides itself on hosting a cheap alternative for sporting initiatives in the borough.

A team of 17 volunteers trains 250 boxers a week. Kyri Yiallouris, funding and liaison officer, describes the continuing support Edmonton Eagles provides for challenging and motivating young people.

He said: "We provide sporting facilities for those under financial constraints and for those often struggling with negativity in a socially deprived area. Boxing classes are wholesome and rounded for each individual, raising aspiration and motivation for hundreds – both young and old."

Leon's Tube ride with a difference

Cyclist raises £20,000 for cancer research

By Shafi Musaddique

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

A SOUTHGATE man cycled the length of the Tube's District line on Sunday, raising more than £20,000 for charity in the process, in honour of a former colleague who suffers from a brain tumour.

Leon Hall is more used to keeping the wheels of London Underground running as a delivery upgrade manager for Transport for London.

The 42-year-old, of Chelmsford Road, organised the challenge in a bid to raise funds for research into brain tumours, a condition suffered by his friend and former TfL colleague Steve Lloyd.

The 39-year old, from Hockley, in Essex, has been battling the aggressive, inoperable tumour since it was first diagnosed in 2008.

Steve has quit his job at TfL to spend more time with his wife and two daughters.

Leon was previously touched by the loss of another friend from a brain tumour – Louise Hudson, from Tufnell Park, north London, who died in 2010, aged 36.

Five teams of riders set off from five District line terminus stations on Santander hire bikes, making their way towards the finishing line at Tower Hill, in central London.

Ride on: Leon Hall, with Susan Rodger, Victoria Hudson and Carl Jenkinson; below, Leon with Louise Hudson

Riders were joined at the finish by family and friends, including England and Arsenal footballer Carl Jenkinson, who is currently on loan at West Ham.

"We don't believe anyone has done an event quite like this before and we have been overwhelmed by the support we have had," said Leon.

Hugh Adams, head of external affairs at Brain Tumour Research, said: "Brain tumours kill more children and adults under the age of 40 than any other cancer, yet just one per cent of the national spend on cancer research is allocated to this devastating disease. This is unacceptable."

Golfers get in the swing for charity

GOLFERS have swung their clubs for charity, raising hundreds of pounds.

Enfield Golf Club, in Old Park Road South, Enfield, hosted the borough's first Jamega Pro Tour event, in which professional and amateur players compete side by side before the field is split into a professionals-only tournament.

Club members took part on Friday – the first day of the competition – and thanks to a charity raffle, the club was able to raise £760 to be divided between three charities, the Ken Rose Foundation, the Nightingale Trust and DreamFlight.

The club had been chosen to host the prestigious tournament in recognition of the fact that it is the home club of professional golfer Harry Casey.

Speaking to the Advertiser as the tournament was drawing to a close on Tuesday afternoon after a series of rain delays over the weekend, the club's general manager Paul Beresford-Green said: "The members got the chance to compete with professional golfers, and then many stayed to watch the rest of the tournament over the next few days.

"They stayed around to pick up some tips on what to do and maybe what not to do as well."

LIFE is not all curtain calls and encores when you're an actor with a small touring open-air theatre company.

For one, there aren't any front-of-house curtains, plus it's exhausting as the cast of the play Mr Stink will testify.

Based on the hilarious children's novel by comedy actor David Walliams, this theatrical adaptation, currently on a nationwide tour, revisits Capel Manor Gardens, in Bullsmoor Lane, Enfield, for two shows tomorrow evening and on Friday, having previously been performed to packed audiences at the same venue early in July.

It's a hectic schedule for the five members of the cast who have to share van driving duties as well as unloading and packing up the sets, props, costumes and public address system before and after every show.

With each two-hour performance finishing at 9pm, rarely do they get back to their bed and breakfast lodgings or hotel until late, often with the prospect ahead of them of hundreds of miles of travelling to their next destination the following day.

"There are no over-inflated egos, the cast and small crew share all the tasks – they become like a mini-family" said Maddy Kerr, executive director of open-air theatre company Heartbreak Productions. "It's hard work, but incredibly rewarding."

Mr Stink tells the tale of a friendship between a young girl, Chloe Crumb, and the eponymous Mr Stink, a smelly tramp with a pooch called Duchess, who also pongs.

He might reek, but Mr Stink is the only person who has ever been nice to Chloe – and that includes her mother who wants to be the local MP and is trying to rid the streets of the homeless.

About to lose her only friend, Chloe finds Mr Stink a secret hiding place in the family's garden shed.

"The play takes place at a garden party thrown by Mrs Crumb for her other daughter Anabelle and is developed through flashbacks," explained Maddy.

"There is plenty of interactive audience participation. We get children to join in the garden party games and there are songs everyone can sing along with.

"It's not just for children, it's written in such away that adults can appreciate and enjoy the play's wider message about acceptance."

□ The performances start at 7pm and theatre-goers are advised to bring their own seating or blankets.

STRAIGHT OUTTA COMPTON
(15, 147mins)

WHENEVER Hollywood immortalises pages from history at 24 frames per second, it's wise to treat each lustrous dramatisation with a pinch of salt.

Rigorous factual accuracy is often sacrificed at the altar of artistic licence.

In the case of F. Gary Gray's engrossing film, you will need to grab bulging fistfuls of sodium chloride.

Not only are two of the key protagonists of this rags to musical riches biopic listed as executive producers, one of them – rapper turned actor Ice Cube – is portrayed by his son.

The faint whiff of nepotism is overpowered by heady fumes of whitewash from Jonathan Herman and Andrea Berloff's script, which neglects to address accusations of misogyny and homophobia levelled at California hip hop collective NWA.

Regardless of the rosy tint to director Gray's lens, Straight Outta Compton is a fascinating portrait of youthful exuberance, raw ambition and racial divide that rubs some of that salt into the deep wounds inflicted since the police shooting of teenager Michael Brown in Ferguson.

The film opens in 1986 with pals Dr Dre (Corey Hawkins), Eazy-E (Jason Mitchell), Ice Cube (O'Shea Jackson Jr), MC Ren (Aldis Hodge) and DJ Yella (Neil Brown Jr) searching for an outlet for their creativity.

Tensions are high between police and black youths – random stop and searches are an unwelcome part of neighbourhood life.

"I'm the only gangster round here," snarls one officer.

With gentle persuasion from his buddies, Eazy-E sets up his own label,

The straight story?

A bad rap? Hip hop crew NWA are the subject of new biopic *Straight Outta Compton

Ruthless Records, and the group's first release Boyz-n-the-Hood piques the interest of Jerry Heller (Paul Giamatti).

He sweet talks Eazy-E into becoming the band's manager.

"What does NWA stand for – No Whites Allowed?" asks Jerry naively.

An electrifying live performance leads to a deal with Priority Records, founded by Bryan Turner (Tate Ellington).

Ice Cube grows increasingly concerned about Eazy-E's close working relationship with Heller and the absence of contracts for the rest of the group.

He eventually leaves and goes solo, sparking a bitter war of rhymes between the former band mates.

Ice Cube aligns himself with Suge Knight (R Marcus Taylor) and together they establish Death Row Records.

Meanwhile, Dr Dre also turns his back on Eazy-E and NWA and channels his energy into working as a producer for other acts including Snoop Dogg (Keith Stanfield) and Tupac Shakur (Marcc Rose).

Straight Outta Compton might run to a holler short of two-and-a-half hours, but Gray's film has sufficient swagger to hold our attention.

Hawkins, Mitchell and Jackson Jr deliver accomplished performances as the sometimes deluded pioneers of a hip hop revolution.

Musical performances pulse with energy including a stand-off with police at a concert that culminates in a riot.

This might not be the whole uncomfortable truth, but what we are allowed to see hits the right notes.

Exclusive invitation to live in Hertford's prestigious Balls Park Estate

Set in the refined elegance of the Balls Park Estate and its Grade I listed mansion house, CALA Homes is launching its exclusive gated development of 30 three and four bedroom luxury homes set amidst 63 acres of protected parkland on Saturday 29th and Sunday 30th August.

Chris Roads, sales and marketing director for CALA Homes North Home Counties, said: "Balls Park represents a unique opportunity to live in the grandest of surroundings. Each of the homes has external elevations designed to reflect the architecture of the estate, whilst inside they benefit from light and contemporary interiors, with some properties featuring master bedroom balconies with stunning views across the parklands.

"We will be hosting a VIP preview event over the bank holiday weekend for potential purchasers to view the show home ahead of the official launch to the general public. We urge those interested to register the VIP invitation-only event."

Believed to have inspired Jane Austen's novel Pride and Prejudice, Balls Park features on the English Heritage Register of Parks and Gardens of Special Historic Interest. The new homes form the final part of the sympathetic redevelopment of the Balls Park estate, which was built originally by Sir John Harrison between 1637 and 1640, before being transformed into an award-winning development.

The three bedroom show home from The Harrison Collection, has a spacious open plan kitchen/ living room, dining room and integral garage on the ground floor. The first floor features an elegant master bedroom with separate dressing room, en suite and balcony with views across the estate. There are two further bedrooms and a family bathroom.

Set within parkland, Balls Park residents can enjoy the natural beauty that surrounds the county town of Hertford. For commuters Hertford East railway station is just one mile from the development giving access into London Liverpool Street in 45 minutes and Hertford North is two miles away with services into London Kings Cross St. Pancras is 35 minutes. The M25 is easily reached via the A414 or the A10. For international travel, London Luton and Stansted airports are within a 25 minute drive and Heathrow is just over an hour away.

For families, some of Hertfordshire's most renowned state and private schools are in Hertford itself, including Simon Balle School, Hertford St Andrew C of E School, Abel Smith Primary, Richard Hale School and Haileybury Independent Boarding School and for downsizers Balls Park is a country home like no other.

Homes range in price from £639,950-£750,000 and buyers can register their interest in CALA at Balls Park ahead of time by visiting www.cala.co.uk or by calling Lanes Estate Agent on 01992 721 438.

ACCURATE VALUATIONS IN ENFIELD

The main factors that affect the price achieved for your home are likely to be size, location and fittings. However, there are innumerable other variations that can add significant value.

Valuing properties in West Enfield is not like valuing properties elsewhere. There are thousands of different styles and in some roads every other property is quite different to the next. The knowledge to appreciate these differences can only be built up over time.

At Ian Gibbs, our valuers have built up that knowledge with over 35 years of valuing properties in the EN1/EN2 area and that experience heightens the chance of you realising the full potential of your greatest financial asset.

We'll give you the best of both worlds...every week, all week!

In this rapidly moving technological age people are finding new ways to advertise, especially online via the internet. But contrary to what online sites are saying and common assumptions, print advertising is not dead. There are still benefits and disadvantages to both methods and the best way to succeed is to find a vehicle that covers both bases - and that's where we come in!

The Benefits of print advertising:

1. Print adverts last longer and will be seen often.
2. They will be seen by a large number of people and have the ability to hit a specific audience.
3. There is a more creative potential with print advertising.
4. There is a positive perception of newspaper advertising - it will encourage people to think the client is serious.

The Benefits of online advertising:

1. The advert content can be easily updated.
2. It's online 24/7, 12 months a year, all round the world.
3. A massive audience, with all ages now online.
4. Very quick response - you can be receiving candidates hours after posting your advert.

FRUSTRATED BY LATE LEVELLER

By Dominique Stafford

sport.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

HEAD coach Mauricio Pochettino expressed his frustration after his Tottenham Hotspur side again let a winning position slip as they had to settle for a 1-1 draw at Leicester City on Saturday.

Spurs threw away a two-goal lead when they were held 2-2 by Stoke City in their previous outing, but they looked set to record their first win of the season when Dele Alli gave them the lead at Leicester with just nine minutes remaining.

However, they were pegged back immediately as Riyad Mahrez equalised within a minute to ensure that the points were shared – much to the annoyance of Pochettino.

"I'm angry for the situation where we conceded the goal," he said. "For me it's difficult to explain the way we conceded the goal, because we know how they play.

"It's not about tactics, it's not about football – when you score and there are only a few minutes until the end of the game you need to compete better and this is where we need to improve.

"The first half was 50-50, difficult for both teams. In the second half I thought we played much better, dominated the game, created chances and scored. It's difficult to explain what happened after that.

"We conceded a silly goal and it's a shame because we deserved more but again, we pay for our mistake and only take a point."

Pochettino added: "It's a difficult moment, but we need to keep working. I'm not worried because the team showed it's alive and we've played very well in the three games.

"We deserved more and the points we have on the table do not reflect how well we've played. But we're looking forward and will try to improve the squad in the next week."

Meanwhile, Alli admitted to mixed emotions after seeing his first goal for the club cancelled out almost immediately.

The midfielder signed for Spurs from MK Dons in January, but was immediately loaned back to his former club for the rest of the season and did not make the move to White Hart Lane until the summer.

"First of all I'm delighted to get some game time," he said. "Everyone wants to play as much as they can and I'm grateful to the manager for bringing me on.

"I found myself in the box and it was a natural reaction to put it in the net. It was a dream come true, I wanted to score that first goal and I was so happy to do it but when they scored straight after, it completely killed it.

"I'd definitely say we were the stronger team, but you can't take anything away from Leicester. They've started the season so well and it's a tough place to come and win, but we should have taken the three points."

A disappointing climax: Mauricio Pochettino was unhappy to see Spurs again fail to hold onto the lead

Win sees Highgate crowned champions

HIGHGATE made sure of winning the Middlesex County Cricket League Division Three title in fine style on Saturday by easing to a 69-run victory at home to South Hampstead.

The hosts had secured promotion the previous week, but still needed to pick up another win to be certain of being crowned champions.

And they achieved this in impressive fashion by producing a dominant all-round display to overcome third-placed South Hampstead.

William Bowley (66), William Brookes (55), Jake Sharland (43) and Hashen Ramanayake (42) all scored heavily as Highgate posted a total of 286-8 batting first, while Ramanayake (4-86) and Craig Gourlay (3-66) were the main contributors with the bat as South Hampstead made 217 in reply.

Meanwhile, North London climbed off the foot of the table with an excellent two-wicket win at in-form Winchmore Hill.

Mark Barrell top-scored with 57 as the hosts amassed 212 batting first, but Will Lake's 60 helped North London to reach 213-8 in reply – despite 6-47 from Sarthak Sawlani (6-47).

Elsewhere, Hornsey's hopes of being promoted from Division Two are almost over following their 74-run defeat at home to Brondesbury.

James Overy (65) and Jordan Bethel (63 not out) piled on the runs as Brondesbury declared on 232-6, and Hornsey could only make 158 in reply – with Adam Wilson taking 4-46.

There was also disappointment for North Middlesex as they suffered an agonising one-wicket defeat at table-topping Hampstead in the Premier Division.

Sam Webber top-scored with 42 before Ben Owen (25 not out) and Ethan Bamber (23 not out) shared in a crucial unbroken stand of 52 for the tenth wicket as North Middlesex posted a total of 239-9 from their 50 overs.

Jaahid Ali (74) and George Adair (52) set Hampstead well on the way to victory before a late flurry of wickets gave the visitors renewed hope, but the hosts held their nerve to edge to 243-9 – with the winning runs coming off the final ball of the match.

North Middlesex make the trip to Richmond on Saturday, while Hornsey visit Eastcote, Highgate go to MTSSC and North London host Harrow Town.

Long wait for first victory continues

HARINGEY BOROUGH are still searching for their first win of the season in Ryman League Division One North after suffering a 2-0 defeat at home to Maldon and Tiptree on Saturday.

Borough have struggled to make an impact at the higher level following their promotion from the Essex Senior League last season, but they created the first real opportunity when Anton Agdomar could only head weakly straight at visiting keeper Danny Sambridge.

The hosts fell behind on 15 minutes when Darren McQueen burst down the left and delivered a low cross which Femi Akinwande did well to control before striking a shot into the bottom corner of the net.

Lifted by the goal, Maldon began to take complete control of the contest and McQueen and Rhys Henry both had efforts cleared off the line before Matt Lock's 15-yard shot crashed against the foot of the post.

Nnamdi Nwachuku was thwarted by home keeper Ashley Harris, but Borough regrouped well at the interval and enjoyed their best spell of the match at the start of the second half.

Daniel Ailey fired narrowly wide and Leroy Griffiths saw his shot turned around the post by Sambridge before Dean Fenton's cross was headed wide by Darryl Cox.

But Borough's hopes of getting back into the match suffered a major setback when they conceded again on 64 minutes, with Akinwande's cross being headed home by McQueen from close range.

Despite this, the hosts continued to press and Cox had a shot blocked before the same player saw an effort from close range clear the bar.

Griffiths also sent a dangerous ball across the face of goal which no-one was able to get to, but Borough were unable to find the net as the visitors held firm for the win.

Meanwhile, a battling display from Borough could not prevent them from bowing out of the Isthmian League Cup on Tuesday last week as they lost 4-3 on penalties to Premier Division outfit Metropolitan Police after the first-round tie ended in a 2-2 draw.

Haringey Borough visit Barking on Saturday (3pm) in the preliminary round of the FA Cup and host Barkingside on Monday (3pm).

Do you want to go to university?

An alternative route to higher education is studying for a BTEC Extended Level 3 Vocational Qualification at the College?

- Vocational qualifications are more practical with less theory – so they are ideal for work and university.
- You will complete more coursework and fewer exams.
- You will receive monitoring and feedback throughout your course, keeping you on track and up to standard.
- Typically, our students achieve well and progress to their first choice universities.
- Universities usually look for 240 – 320 UCAS points. To find out more, visit <http://search.ucas.com/>

There are four BTEC Level 3 Extended Grades. An Extended Diploma is equivalent to studying for 3 A Levels	A Level Equivalents	UCAS points
D*D*D* - Distinction*	A*A*A*	140 x 3 = 420
DDD - Distinction	A A A	120 x 3 = 300
MMM - Merit	C C C	80 x 3 = 240
PPP - Pass	E E E	40 x 3 = 120

Call us if you need more information 020 8442 3055.

Lenroy Wallace achieved a Triple Starred Distinction, D*D*D* in his ICT and Computing Extended Diploma Level 3. He progressed to study ICT and Computing at King's College London and is now working for BT.

Melina Zachariou I have done incredibly well at CONEL and I am going to Westminster University to study BA (Hons) Journalism to fulfil my dream of becoming a journalist.

Our successes:

- London's Top FE College for the last two years running, Student Funding Agency 13/14 and 12/13
- Fantastic Ofsted report - 'Outstanding' and 'Good', Ofsted April 2014
- Most satisfied College learners in London for the last two years running, FE Choices 13/14 and 12/13
- Over 60% of our learners are in work six months after graduating.
- Hundreds of our learners progress to university each year.
- 95% of our learners achieve their qualifications.
- We have spent £20million at our Centres in Tottenham and Enfield to create excellent College facilities.
